The permanent representative of Czechoslovakia on the Council for Economic Mutual Assistance (CEMA) in Moscow is the commercial attache at the Czechoslovak Embassy in Moscow. Special delegations, however, are sent to important sessions. These include officials of the Ministry of Foreign Trade and managers of nationalized industries. Instructions to the CEMA representative and directives from CEMA to Prague are transmitted through the Czechoslovak Embassy in Moscow, either by enciphered telegram or by diplomatic pouch. It is possible that there is also communication between the commercial attache and the Ministry of Foreign Trade which circumvents Embassy channels.
